

EXTENDED USAGE RIGHTS

This document states what you can and cannot do with this product, consisting of video and audio files as well as Word and PDF documents (hereinafter referred to as the 'Materials').

In short, you are allowed to use these Materials and affix your own brand on these Materials as specified under the do's and don'ts indicated below in the context of your own business, practice or professional services for teaching, coaching, counseling, and therapeutic purposes.

All Materials and other videos, texts, graphics and images of PositivePsychology.com B.V. are the sole and exclusive property of PositivePsychology.com B.V. All intellectual property rights, including copyrights, vested in these Materials and other texts, graphics and images always remain with PositivePsychology.com B.V. and nothing in this document grants you any express or implied rights other than those explicitly stated.

Although the following terms are rather common sense, they are stipulated in this document in order to prevent any misunderstanding about the scope of your extended usage rights.

For your convenience, these terms have been divided into two categories: Do's and Don'ts. For further clarification, see the examples at the end of this document. Should you still have questions, please liaise with contact PositivePsychology.com B.V.

■ DO'S

1. If you use the Materials or parts thereof, ensure that it is always indicated that the copyrights belong to PositivePsychology.com B.V. by stating: © Positive Psychology.com B.V.;
2. You are entitled to use, reproduce and disclose the Materials in the context of your own professional services to your patients, clients and/or students only. This means that permission is granted only to use the Materials, and references thereto, in your practice, coaching or classroom;
3. You are also entitled to personalize the Materials as far as Word-files are concerned by adding your own name and/or brand to the Materials on the appropriate places (e.g. in the header or footer of the documents);
4. For the benefit of your patients, clients and/or students, you are also allowed to translate the Materials, provided that the translation meets international quality standards and is an accurate representation of the original text and meets the industrial standard.
5. For the benefit of your patients, clients and/or students, you may grant them access to the Materials, but only as far as the PowerPoint files and the Client Workbook is concerned, by uploading these to a password-protected online environment or another means of sharing them digitally.

■ DONT'S

1. You are not allowed to make any changes to (the contents of) the Materials, except for translation purposes and to the extent necessary to apply your own name and/or brand (see points 3. and 4.);
2. Except for the usage rights as indicated in point 2., you are not entitled to resell, reproduce, republish or otherwise disclose any Materials, or parts thereof, (for example by copying and making them available, online or otherwise) to people or parties for their use or further exploitation (this is considered plagiarism);
3. The login details that were provided to you are only for you and must be kept confidential. Sharing the login details with others is prohibited and considered piracy;
4. You are not entitled to resell this product, in part or its entirety or as a part of a larger product or offering. If you wish to resell it you can request an affiliate link by sending an email to info@positivepsychology.com;

Put simply, you can go out and use the contents of this product in your work under your own name and brand as long as you make clear that the Materials are copyrights protected and owned by PositivePsychology.com B.V.
