■ MATERIAL FOR YOU AS A PROFESSIONAL

The practitioner manual and video lectures are for you as a practitioner and are not to be offered as a part of your product or resold in any way. This wouldn't make sense, since these materials are supporting materials for practitioners and not meant for clients, students or patients. Private label rights do therefore not apply for these materials.

- The video lectures
- The audio version of the video lectures
- The practitioner manual

■ EXAMPLES

Can I offer the PowerPoint slides as a part of my paid online course?

Yes.

Can I put my own logo on the client workbook, print it and hand it out to my workshop participants?

Yes, that's what it's for!

Can I resell (a part of) the package as is on my own website?

No.

Can I offer a printed version of the practitioner manual to my workshop participants?

You can of course, but it wouldn't make sense since this manual contains instructions for you as a practitioner.

Can I distribute the audio instructions for practitioners via my website?

No.
